OLD FOGY SAYS A FEW WORDS MORE

TALKS ON THE POLICE MATTERS ONCE MORE.

UP TO THE COUNCIL NOW

Touches Up the Garbage Ordinance, and Asks Why It Is Not Enforced When Passed.

To the Editor: Comparisons are odious but I would like to call attention to the old fable of Diogenes searching with his lighted lantern for an honest man. By this I do not mean that should Mr. Diogenes of the modern day light his lantern in Janesville he would have to search long but that many men firmly believe matters are right because they do not wish to believe them wrong. Janesville is no longer a village requiring village ordinances and requirements. During the past fifteen years the city of Janesville has become firmly placed upon the map of the factory cities of the state. The locations for such factories are ideal and manufacturers have been quick to see them and locate here. Our growth has not been of the mushroom order but steady and ever increasing. We are proud of our city and of the place it has gained in the world of business but still we close our eyes to many little matters that could be easily remedied.

The Police Again. Since my letter of Wednesday, I have heard much favorable comment on the plan I presented of having an office man at the city hall all the time to answer emergency calls, in other words to have one policeman in the city where he could be reached at any time of day or night by those who need him. Janesville of fifteen years ago did not need an organized police force with rules and regulations. Janesville of fifteen years ago was an overgrown country village but the Janesville of today is a far different city. Chief Hogan and his force of police have done wonderful work in protecting property and preserving order with the facilities at their disposal. What the city needs now is an organized police force to cope with the ever increasing population that resist the laws as a matter of course. This stage comes to every city and it would appear to me that Janesville has now reached it.

Up to Council. The matter is up to the council to act upon and from the recent talk with one of the aldermen interested in city improvement he quite agreed with me and approved the plan of more policemen and better organization. While our present police are willing and attend to their duty to the best of their ability they are not numerically sufficient for the needs of the city and are not organized enough to cover the territory which should be daily and nightly attended to. Let the council consider this proposition carefully and act as best men who have the best interests of the city at heart.

The Saloons. There is before the Common council now a move to prevent the issuing of liquor licenses for saloons in the district known as the Five Points. Such a move would be beneficial to the whole city. After the discussion the other day I walked up through this district to see for myself what were the conditions. I met a little girl not over twelve who was carrying a pail of foaming beer to her home. She told me she purchased it at one of the three saloons and said there never was any objection to her getting her papa's beer. I saw numerous young fellows, some of them but boys that should have been in short clothes smoking pipes and sitting around the saloons in question. If this condition existed on one day by a chance it would exist every day.

Matheson Right. Alderman Matheson is right in his move to stop this work if possible. He should be backed by the entire council and there should be no hesitancy on the part of any alderman in respect of party ties from voting against the continuation of these "sink holes". If we must have saloons let us have them in the business district where they can be properly watched by the police and made to conform with the law of Sunday closing.

That Garbage. That garbage ordinance seems to have been long enough on the city books now to have had some beginning made in its enforcement. If ordinances are to be passed by the council to please one member and then dropped into oblivion, why pay for the printing of them in the daily paper? That's a wasteful use of city money. If the ordinance is not good, is not to be enforced by the city officials who should do so then defeat in the council is better than having a dead law on the books for future annoyance.

Cleaning Up. The influence of Health Officer Merritt has already made itself felt and the general tone and appearance of the city is much better than it was several months ago. Thus far he is meeting with success in his enforcement of spring cleaning and with law back of him he should do well in the future. A clean city, a healthy one.

Racine Street Bridge. I feel that it might be a good thing to call attention to the citizens of Janesville to the need of a bridge across the river at Racine street. This end of the city is growing more rapidly than any other portion and the men who live and own homes here are often much delayed by having to walk to the center of the city before being able to cross the river to the

WAREHOUSES HERE WINDING UP WORK

Two Weeks More Will Clear Up Business of All But Half Dozen.

The tobacco warehouses here are gradually closing down and in another fortnight there will be less than half a dozen running their assorting rooms, according to the Janesville correspondent of the Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter. It is reported that the American Cigar Co. closed its house at Broadhead for the season last Friday. The crop of 1902 appears to be the only salvation of the dealers this season and it is being picked up as readily as that of the crop of the year preceding regardless of what condemnation it was put to during the past year. Apparently the market has again gone back to its sluggish state. Thus far this week the only firm that broke from its listless state and made a deal was that of L. B. Carle & Son, by selling 20000 of 1901 and '02 and buying 10000 of the same. Fisher & Fisher, sampled a 30000 lot of '02. The sales that were made late last week were those by F. S. Barnes of 76000 of 1901-'02; S. H. Hedges, 30000 1901-'02 and Fisher & Fisher 57000 and G. H. Rummell 18400 1902. Mr. Barnes bought 30000 of Fisher & Fisher, 9700 of H. S. McGiffin, 100 cases in Ogerton and 10000 in Stoughton, all low grade fillers and binders.

BELOIT AND JANESVILLE BAPTIST BOYS PLAY BALL

Two Nines Scheduled to Meet at Yost Park This Afternoon.

A nine picked from the boys of the Baptist church played a game with a similar organization from Beloit at Yost's park this afternoon. The local line-up was as follows: Hans, c; Cox, p; (captain); McLaughlin, ss; Hough, 1b; Brown, 2b; Fleck, 3b; Sackby, lf; Clarke, cf; Crissey, rf.

WHITEWATER TRACK MEET HAD TO BE ABANDONED

Field Where the Contests Were to Be Made Is Under Water.

Word was sent from Whitewater yesterday that the track which was to have been used for the district athletic meet today was under water and could not be gotten in condition for the events. The meet will be held at the earliest possible date convenient for the schools that are to participate.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIOR TEAM PLAYS AT FOOTVILLE

Vincent Koch Pitched in Contest with School Team

The Y. M. C. A. junior baseball team left for Footville this morning to play with a school team of that village. It is probable that a junior league will be organized in this section. The line-up of the juniors was: Griffith, c; Koch, p, (captain); Kilmer, ss; Merrill, 1st; Dreyer, 2b; Bannison, 3b; Strang, lf; Richards, cf; Campbell, rf; Baker, Dentwyler, subs.

MARIAN MARNE TELLS OF THE NEW NEGLIGEE WORN

Coquettish Corset Covers—Refinement in Perfumes—An Interesting Letter.

There is little excuse for the woman who is without taste and becoming negligees in this day and age of exquisite textiles at prices to suit the multitude. For the little coffee jacket and short slippers that all went once under the head of dressing gowns there is an embarrassment of riches in materials. Soft silks in the daintiest effects are abundant, and of cottons there is no end.

A charming use of embroidered lawn flouncing is shown in the picture. The body of the garment is shirred onto the fitted yoke, which is outlined by a band of yagotina. The depth of the flouncing also makes the sleeve.

The corset cover is also receiving an unusual amount of attention. It is not only a corset cover, but is a coquettish and charming garment as well. A pretty one is made of lace flouncing, with a ribbon-run through the heading.

NEW RULING AS THEIR DRINKING

Illinois Central Has Started a Crusade Against the Using of Liquor by Employees.

The Illinois Central Railroad company has started a crusade against the use of liquor by employees connected with the transportation department, and as a result of the movement seven men have been discharged. Saturday evening seven brakemen, all of whom are employed between Dubuque and Freeport, received notice that their services were no longer required and that they were at liberty to seek employment elsewhere. The reason given for the dismissal was the use of liquor in excess.

For several weeks past the company officials have been investigating the reports that several of the men have been under the influence of liquor. A couple of detectives are said to have been sent out and began work on the case. The investigation is said to have placed the names of a number of men on the suspect list, and evidence against seven of these was such that the company felt warranted in relieving them for service. Close talk will be kept on the others and unless they reform they will be let out.

It is understood that the liquor crusade is not confined to the Dubuque division alone, but is general throughout the entire Illinois Central system. The company has always taken a stand against the excessive use of strong drink by employees, and especially those connected with the transportation and road departments. Until recently, however, the company has been lenient, discharging only those who are incapacitated for duty.

Now the officials have come to the conclusion that a steady drinker, even if a moderate one, is unfit for service. It is also said that the company objects to having its employees frequent saloons because of the impression it makes on the public. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway is about to inaugurate a radical departure in its passenger service between the Twin Cities and Chicago that will seriously affect the train crews and result in a saving of several thousand dollars a month for the company. After next Monday the passenger crews will run between Minneapolis and Chicago, a distance of 414 miles, making the longest run that any train crew in that section of the country has ever been called upon to make. Heretofore one crew would run the passenger trains between Minneapolis and Savanna, Ill., and another crew between Savanna and Chicago. Recently the Illinois Central, of which the Burlington is a part, decided on a policy of retrenchment, and it is said that men who formerly occupied good clerical positions in the head offices of the company are now employed as gate tenders. In order to further cut expenses the company has decided to make one crew do the work that was formerly done by two between Minneapolis and Chicago, and to that end the men will be forced to make a through run between the two cities. The change will work no little hardship on the men and there will be loud protests. The change will result in the laying off of a number of conductors, brakemen, baggage men, engineers, and firemen. The men from the passenger trains will be given freight runs and enough freight men will be let out to make positions for them.

Madison, Wis., May 14.—The anti-La Follette forces are actively looking up their rights in a legal way. They do not intend that the high court "for" shall deprive them of a victory won by their own efforts and the anti-La Follette forces of the state central committee, which is the committee on credentials. It is known that the opposition to "reform" methods has retained the law firm of Olin & Butler of this city to see that their rights are preserved. Just what legal steps may be taken is not known, but the opposition is going to be ready for any snap work by "reform."

John M. Olin is one of the ablest lawyers of the state and whatever can be done to protect the legal rights of the delegates whom it is proposed by "reform" to unseat, will be done. The plan of legal campaign was not yet disclosed. In the matter of legal procedure it has leaked out this afternoon that the opposition to "reform" is forced to by having their convention stolen from them, will nominate a full ticket of their own and then restrain Secretary of State Housner from putting the La Follette "reform" nominees on the ballot and then sue out a writ of mandamus compelling Housner to put the anti-La Follette nominees on the ballot. The action would be in the supreme court as a court of original jurisdiction and leave the result wholly to its decision.

LAST DAY OF THE CAUCUS FIGHTING

GOVERNOR'S ADHERENTS ARE IN THEIR LAST TRENCHES.

GATES COUNTY FOR BAENSCH

Real Work Will Begin on Tuesday, When the State Central Committee Begins Its Work.

Today is the last of the struggle for supremacy at the caucuses and now comes the battle royal at Madison, La Follette or anti-La Follette: "To be or not to be," that is the question. Whether by the aid of a subordinate state central committee the La Follette faction is to dominate the convention remains to be seen. Gates county, a former strong hold of La Folletteism, redeemed itself yesterday and swung into the anti-La Follette line. Its three votes will count in the total and today's count should give a good working majority for the conservative element. Lafayette, Sawyer, Dunn, Bayfield and St. Croix counties are all on the tapis today and when the result is known tonight then the final can be counted.

A Discrepancy. The La Follette tables and the conservative tables show a discrepancy of a hundred votes. The difference is accounted for by the fact that the La Follette tables show in all districts where contests have been initiated by the governor's orders, as well as several delegations that have not been contested. They count for the governor the following delegations: Ashland, 12; Dodge, 19; Eau Claire, 18; Oconto, 11; Pepin, 4; Outagamie, 10; Kewaunee, 7; and 9 votes from Milwaukee to which they have no title. They also claim eleven votes in Grant county, where the conservatives have initiated a contest on affidavits that will be presented to the state central committee. The total number of disputed delegates is, therefore, 101, the odd one being accounted for by the fact that the original credits Wood county with twelve delegates, when they have elected thirteen, the number to which that county is entitled.

These disputes will be laid before the state central committee, which acts as a committee on credentials for the state convention. The names of the committee members may be of interest to the republicans of Wisconsin, in view of the fact that it has been intimated that this body will arbitrarily assume to determine—without permitting an appeal to the convention itself—the qualifications of delegates. The following members make up the committee: Gen. G. E. Bryant, chairman, Madison, superintendent of public property; C. C. Gittings, Racine; Perry C. Wilder, Evansville; John M. Nelson, Madison; J. C. MacKenzie, Portage, filing clerk state department; Dwight T. Parker, Fennimore, university regent; James A. Stone, Reedsburg, assistant secretary of state; George A. West, Milwaukee; Edward J. Bullock, Milwaukee; David Harlow, Milwaukee; S. E. Gerson, Waukesha, oil inspector.

John A. Dennett, Port Washington; Frank M. Lawrence, Mayville; W. T. Scales, Sparta, surgeon State School for Dependent Children; W. H. Smith, Mendota, editor of Walter Bauer's paper; Eber E. Simpson, Oshkosh; Walter D. Corrikan, Plainfield, law examiner in attorney general's office; Warren J. Davis, Marinette; John P. Dousman, De Pere; M. E. Dillon, Ashland; M. P. Rosenberry, Wausau; Curle G. Bell, Bayfield, member of fish commission; S. J. Bradford, Hudson.

WISCONSIN MEETS BELOIT HALF WAY

Athletic Differences Are Patched Up, and the University Will Play the Congregational College.

The University of Wisconsin will play baseball with Beloit on Keep field at Beloit, on May 25, the severed athletic relations between the two schools having been nicely cemented. At a meeting of the board of control of Beloit college Thursday night, a letter was drawn up and signed by the board and Coach Holster which gives to Beloit all that she has been asking from the "varsity." Hereafter, when Beloit plays in Madison, there will be a limit on the number of complimentary tickets issued and tickets will be sold for fifty cents. The last condition is the one which Beloit has specially demanded. In all of the other college centers Beloit is a fifty cent attraction but in Madison they attempted to hold the Beloit team cheap and would only charge 25 cents. As Beloit always has one of the best teams in the west it was justly resented. The letter was sent to Madison and will doubtless be signed by Graduate Manager Kilpatrick. It insures the game on next Wednesday week.

The teams met in Madison on April 16 when Beloit lost by a score of 4 to 6 and it has been the desire of the Beloit followers of the game that the team have another try against the Badgers. For a time it looked as if this could not be brought about on account of the strained relations between the athletic departments of the schools but a truce has been arranged which will benefit both sides. "Cy" Young will twirl for Madison and probably Morey for Beloit.

CLINTON MUCH DISTURBED BY DOG AND PONY SHOW

Herman Kath's House Robbed and Local Billy Goat Made Trouble.

During the performance given by Selbel Bros. dog and pony show at Clinton the residence of Herman Kath was broken into and several articles stolen. When a search was instituted the missing property was found in one of the two cars belonging to the circus. The circus men disclaimed any connection with the theft and asserted that the goods were taken by a boy tramp who had been following the show for several days. That was not the only disturbance, however. William Buchanan's pet goat "Billy" which was purchased by the circus is alleged to have made his debut at the afternoon performance. When the ringmaster attempted to seat an ape astride the Janesville goat refused to stand for this sort of monkey business and made a dash over the ring ropes and into the crowd, creating widespread consternation. This is the tale going the rounds and it is good

NORRIS SMITH IS A PRIZE WINNER

Another One of the Stories Written by Rock County's Coming Authors.

The Story of the Paragus, or The Magic Book.

Once upon a time, in a little village by the sea, there lived a very queer man, whose name was Paragus, though the people called him St. Flappo. The house in which he lived was made of clay and rocks. There were a few holes in each side which he used for windows. There was also a little hole in the top, from which the smoke came when a fire was built within.

Paragus, or St. Flappo, lived in this little hut all alone. Other people who lived in the same village, never went near nor spoke to him. This was not strange, because Paragus could, by saying a single word, change them into anything he wanted to. Therefore all mankind dreaded him.

One day when Paragus was walking on the shore of the sea near his hut, he saw—what do you think he saw? A beautiful maiden walking towards him. She was so beautiful that he fell in love with her at once, and ran out to meet her. When she saw him coming she stopped and blushed, and blushed still more when he asked her to be his wife. Still she did not refuse and walked with him to the little hut where they were married.

Nobody was at the wedding only the beautiful girl, Paragus and a priest. Paragus had a book, which was full of magic writing, which nobody ever read or saw but himself. Not even his beautiful wife would dare to look at it or touch it, though she wanted to many times. Paragus had told her that if she ever did so she would be turned to stone from head to foot and be a statue. He had also told her that he could never bring her back to life again.

But one day when Paragus was riding out on the sea in a little boat called Exup, his wife whose name was Beauty, thought to herself, Now as long as Paragus is away, I will just take a peep in the magic book. I am sure it would never do me any harm and I don't believe it would turn me into stone, for why should it I am not Paragus.

She stooped quietly into a little closet where the book was concealed. She took one peck, but not another, for at that moment she fell lifeless upon the floor of the hut and was turned into stone.

When Paragus returned home and found his wife he grieved greatly over her death, and how she had disobeyed him about reading the magic book. Therefore my friends, when you are told not to do a thing, and you know it would be wrong to do it, you must never do it even though you wanted to the worst way, for if you do, you will get into some kind of trouble, even though you do not turn into stone.

Coming Attractions.

This has been an important year of accomplishment with Otto Skinner. His work with Ada Rehan as co-star in a repertory of classic comedies has earned for him the superlatives of the best critics of the country. As Petruccio, Charles Surface, and more especially as Shylock, (roles that have been played by Booth, Irving and the best actors in the English tongue for many generations), he has undoubtedly taken a step forward in the lines of achievement which places him higher than ever before, even in the critical world where he has been highly considered.

The foremost critics of New York have only allowed Mr. Skinner's prominence in the front rank of American actors, but have said in many ways, but always with the same quality of conviction, that he is today the foremost male representative among Americans of the classic and standard drama.

Considering his comparative youth, this judgment makes the immediate future of this splendid actor full of auspicious promise.

Everything that Mr. Skinner shall essay in the near future will have a special significance, and must surely engage the sympathetic interest of all critics and lovers of the pure drama. The new play that Mr. Skinner is to produce a new play by the distinguished French author, Jean Richepin, comes with especial gratification at this time, and proves again the unfettered independence and fine discrimination of this true artist-actor. The character which Mr. Skinner will create in this first English adaptation of an already great French success, is a part full of opportunities for delicate and affecting acting. The character is known throughout the action as "The Harvester" and gives the French play

In English dress its new title. Mr. Skinner made the first presentation of his new play on any stage at the Davidson theatre in Milwaukee March 5th, and but a few days later Mr. Skinner will present it here for one performance only at the Myers Theatre.

Revival of "The Taming of the Shrew"

Conspicuous among this season's theatrical offerings is the revival of "The Taming of the Shrew" in which Charles H. Hanford, the well known Shakespearean star, will be seen in this city at the Myers Grand Opera house on Tuesday, May 17. Mr. Hanford begs leave to announce that nothing has been unknown to enhance the attractiveness of the delightful old comedy. Every picture will be given its proper setting. Special scenery has been designed for this production by leading New York artists who have vied with each other to secure the best and most beautiful results. Their efforts, it is said, have been crowned with much success not only on account of their exertions, but also because the Italian atmosphere and the coloring of the period of "The Taming of the Shrew" readily lend themselves to artistic endeavor. The costuming of the play is on a par with the scenic excellence, while all the other appointments, properties and electrical effects help to make the production one of the notable that was ever sent on tour. It is stated that every member of the company is an artist who has won his spurs in Shakespearean drama. At the head of Mr. Hanford's supporting company is the actress Miss Marie Dronah, concerning whom so much has been written. Already a great deal of curiosity has been manifested to see her in the role of Katherine.

ARE YOU GOING TO THE WORLD'S FAIR?

Call and let us explain what we can do in the way of a cheap trip to Southeastern Missouri with a lay over at St. Louis, to visit the GREAT FAIR. We have $5.00 notes of the FINEST FRUIT, TOBACCO, GRAIN AND HAY Lands in the United States; not Swamp Lands but high and dry. Splendid Water, Hardwood Timber and level laying. Go to a climate where you do not have to eat up in the winter all you can raise in the summer. Prices range from Five to Ten Dollars per Acre.

We have just made arrangements so that we can stop over in St. Louis and visit the Fair without any extra expense.

Call and let us talk it over with you.

"Goods that are not good enough to advertise are not good enough to buy" is a refrain pretty generally accepted.

Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer Sunday.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Suspended above the dusk of a Pittsburgh bank president is this motto: "Do the Hard Thing First." Ten years ago he was discount clerk in this same bank.

Robert Webster Jones, in "Success," tells of an interview with the bank official. In answer to the question: "How did you climb so fast?" The reply was:

"I lived up to that text."

On being requested to relate his experience, he said:

"There's not much to tell. I had long been conscious that I was not getting up with my work; it was distasteful to me. When I opened my desk in the morning and found it covered with reminders of work to be done during the day I became discouraged."

There were always plenty of comparatively easy things to do, and these I did first, putting off the disagreeable duties as long as possible. Result: I became intellectually lazy. I felt an increasing incapacity for my work. One morning I woke up. I took stock of myself to find out the trouble.

Memoranda of several matters that had long needed attention stared at me from my calendar. I had been carrying them along from day to day. Inclosed in a rubber band were a number of unanswered letters which necessitated the looking up of certain information before the replies could be sent. I had tried for days to ignore their presence.

"Suddenly the thought came to me: 'I have been doing only the easy things. By postponing the disagreeable tasks, the mean, annoying little things, my mental muscles have been allowed to grow flabby. They must get some exercise.' I took off my coat and proceeded to 'clean house.' It wasn't half as hard as I had expected. Then I took a card and wrote on it: 'Do the Hard Thing First,' and put it where I could see it every morning. I've been doing the hard thing first ever since."

Much is written, now a days, about the "secret of success" and all sorts of requisites are suggested. While the same rules do not apply in all cases, because people are not all cast in the same mould, it is safe to say that the discovery made by the banker, could be utilized by a very large class, to advantage.

The hard things in life confront us at every step of the journey, and it is much easier to pass them by than to take them up and struggle for the mastery.

The boy in school is confronted with hard problems before his education is fairly launched. If he meets them with a disposition and determination to solve them, he has taken a long stride in the right direction, and contributed substantially to the foundation on which character is successfully built.

If he avoids them, or leaves them unsolved, the neglect will follow him and his development will be dwarfed and proportionately weak.

The young man who is always looking for "soft snaps" may succeed in finding them, but he will have nothing to show for the investment, because the battle of life, where victories are won, is out in the open, where competition stirs ambition and sharpens energies.

The hard things of life are blessings and without them but little would be accomplished. The young man who inherits a fortune, is entitled to more sympathy than congratulations. He may be envied by the great army of young men who are obliged to dig out their own destinies, but the boy in the ranks is infinitely better off.

If success comes to him as the result of well directed energies, he will not only know how it was won, but he will have something besides money to show for the effort.

Inherited wealth is one of the accidents of birth, but honestly acquiring it in spite of obstacles, is the most wholesome discipline. It adds to stature and broadens development.

It is estimated that 80 per cent of the young men in college, are pensioners. Liberal allowances from home, anticipate every want, and creates an atmosphere of dependence that is demoralizing in the extreme. This class of young men are surrounded by abnormal conditions, and it is not at all surprising that when they rub up against life as it exists in normal surroundings, a few years later, that many of them fail. A disappointment to themselves as well as to their friends.

The boy who works his way through college, like the boy who struggles up through the school of practical experience has met some of the hard propositions of life, early in the game, and the contact has been so helpful to him, that he is prepared for the actual strife when he enters the larger arena where might is put to the test.

The best friend that a man has in this world is not the man who pats him on the back, and calls him a good fellow, but it is the man who points out imperfections, in a kindly spirit, and suggests reform.

It may be gratifying to a preacher to have his audience tell him that he is a great orator, and a powerful exponent of the truth, but the friend who gets up close to him and suggests that he keep his feet on the ground while chasing thought among the clouds, is worth more to him, than all the flattery of the crowds.

There are some homes that are hot beds of egotism, where about the only plant, that flourishes is the plant of conceit. The children are led to believe that they are made of a peculiar brand of clay, and that they are in every way superior to the common herd.

The hard things of life do not come to their experience, because the parents are troubled with the notion that childhood and youth should be all sunshine, and that trouble enough awaits them when the journey is fairly commenced.

This is a false conception of life and an injustice to the child. Better for the boy to fight his own battles, and come home with a scar, now and then, than to be a stranger to the conflict until he is forced into it.

Brain and Brawn are developed by exercise, and manhood is not a mantle that can be purchased or inherited. The old banker's motto is a good one, "Do the Hard Things First," and a day for rest and enjoyment is sure to follow.

Down in the town of Afton they had hard work to select the four out of the five democrats who attended the democratic caucuses, to go to the county convention. Several ballots were taken before the desired result was obtained.

It will not take long to convince some people that everything that the Governor and his lieutenants have said about harmony was all talk.

The fight on the floor of the Madison convention will be a wonder, the faction that wins will have a dear bought victory.

Russia seems desperate and destroys millions of dollars worth of supplies to prevent the Japs from capturing them.

From present indications the nomination of President Roosevelt will be hotly contested—by the hot weather.

Evidently that St. Louis fair is like other world's fairs. Not ready to start when the gong sounds.

Alls fair in war seems to be the motto the Illinois republicans are using for a watch word.

The Milwaukee organ by La Follette seems to have died down to a fight to the death.

The battle is all but won now. Yet the hardest fighting will come next week.

Now up bobs South America with another war just to keep in line.

My but after the eighteenth won't there be a lot of tired game wardens.

Next fight on the program gentlemen is the great "unwashed."

Congressman Cooper will succeed himself without any opposition.

The St. Paul road has again put Deloit on their train map.

Bryan is still playing the same old tune on the same old organ.

Rooms will be at a premium at Madison next week.

Convention bolts are not bought in hardware stores.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Perhaps Gov. La Follette thinks a rump steak is better than no steak at all.

Madison Democrat: Gee! What a ticket for Wisconsin democrats. Hearst for president and Peck for governor, hoodle and buffoonery, falacy and folly, damnation and carnation.

Chicago Record-Herald: If the czar goes to the front, as he desires to do, he should insist on being informed concerning the trade-marks on all bombs before approaching them.

Oshkosh Northwestern: Governor La Follette seems determined to either hold on to his job as governor, or wreck the Republican state party in trying.

Madison Journal: Illinois is used to a political rough-and-tumble, but it seems queer that Wisconsin should be going through the contortions of a dog chasing his tail.

Racine Journal: If the Ashland contest is to be decided by the vote one teller claims he saw cast by mistake for Judge Baensch, a new elec-ment may be introduced in our politics hitherto neglected.

Seranton Tribune: When Uncle Sam's warships are summoned to the scene, it begins to look like the beginning of the end in the Far Eastern affair.

Chicago Tribune: Rudyard Kipling in spite of the persistent attempts to prod him into writing something, seems to have decided to be the Judge Parker literature.

Eau Claire Leader: The governor wanted the convention at Madison, and before "school let out" at the University. If things went the right way for him, he wanted to hear the heap of noise the students can make.

Evansville Review: Mrs. Wm. Englund of Marquette, and aged woman, has sued her eighty-year-old husband for divorce. The grounds for such are she has learned that he sharrage was not legal. It has taken her a long time to find it out it seems.

Appleton Post: Uncle Joe Cannon wants it distinctly understood that he will have nothing to do with the vice-presidential nomination. Well, Theodore Roosevelt was equally averse to that doubtful prize but he got it just the same.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: Hamlet Kye, of Sioux City, is organizing a club to be composed of gentelmen who have lost their appendix. Mr. Parker will be eligible next November, when Mr. Hill again gets into his coffin.

La Crosse Leader and Press: Each republican faction in Wisconsin has figured out that this state is not necessary for republican success this year and is prepared to bolt should it lose in the state convention. But it is doubtful whether the democrats of Wisconsin will be able to take advantage of their opportunity.

Chicago Chronicle: About two weeks have elapsed since an ordinary unassuming individual in Chicago captured with his naked hands a mad dog of large size which was running amuck in a crowded street, tied the animal and took it to a police station where it was shot, and yet nothing has been heard from Mr. Carnegie. Doesn't he know a hero when he sees one?

Superior Telegram: The principal summer resorts of the northwest are expected to receive an unusually large amount of business this season. There is said to be reliable indications of that kind. The eastern resorts are very strong competitors, however, having already reported the discovery of three sea serpents in the offing.

Milwaukee News: The "claim" department of the Hearst campaign in Wisconsin is one of its distinguishing characteristics. The "boomers" "claim" everything and concede nothing. Their plan of campaign seems to be that by "claiming" everything they hope to be able to attract the band-wagon element to the support of their candidate. In this they are meeting with disappointment, however, as their "claims" have served to awaken the sane, sober, thoughtful Democrats of the state to their duty and they are turning out to the caucuses and giving the Hearst candidacy a black eye.

GETS $35,000 FOR SAVING LIFE

Pennsylvania Butcher Is Remembered for Act of Fifteen Years Ago.

Chester, Pa., May 14.—Ernest A. Roebor, a butcher in Colwyn, a suburb of Chester, has received a check for $35,000 from the estate of Mrs. Martha Dobbs, who was a wealthy resident of Pittsburgh. Roebor saved her life in a runaway accident fifteen years ago. Roebor recently received, in addition to the bequest, a draft for $10,000 from Mrs. Dobbs' daughter, Mrs. Hagermiller, of Pittsburgh.

Santa Fe Official Resigns. Fort Worth, Tex., May 14.—Col. L. J. Tolk, vice president and executive officer of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, has resigned his position.

CORNELIUS BUCKLEY AND FIVE OTHERS FILED OUT

OF DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

When "Gag Rule" Measure of Appointing Delegates by a Committee
Was Carried by Anti-Hearst Men.

Chairman P. J. Mount called the democratic convention to order in the circuit court rooms this afternoon at two o'clock. On motion of R. M. Richmond of Evansville Fred C. Burton was made chairman and Ben C. Wilson of Edgerton secretary. The following committee on credentials was appointed by the chair: R. M. Richmond, Evansville; J. P. Baker, Janesville; and J. C. Clark of Beloit.

Nominate Delegates
A movement to have the delegates to the state convention appointed by a committee of three called forth an impassioned speech from Cornelius Buckley of Beloit who characterized such procedure as undemocratic. Janesville delegates favored this method, while Beloit, as well as several of the country preachers, bitterly opposed it. By a vote of 68 to 33 it was decided that the delegates should be appointed by a committee of three. On this committee the chair appointed F. R. Morris, J. B. McLean, and John Cunningham.

Angry at Gag Rule
At this juncture Cornelius Buckley and several conferees, disgusted with this gag-rule move of the Janesville anti-Hearst men, left the hall in disgust.

The thirteen delegates chosen were: First assembly district, Andrew Jensen, O. P. Murwin, R. M. Richmond, and F. R. Morris. Second district: George G. Sutherland, I. F. Connors, J. B. McLean, C. L. Clarke, and P. J. Mount. Third district: John Rorden, H. A. Wilmann, and John Clarke. Resolutions instructing for George G. Sutherland as delegate to the national convention and endorsing Edward Wall for the presidency were adopted.

SHORT ROUTE FROM HERE TO EDGERTON

First Survey-Made by Interurban Co.
Shows Possible Eleven and Half Mile Course.

On the preliminary survey made for the Southern Wisconsin Interurban Co. it has been discovered that a line can be built between Janesville and Edgerton which will cover the distance in 11½ miles, which will be at least a mile shorter than the wagon road, and over three miles shorter than the Milwaukee road via Milton Junction. Should this route between this city and Edgerton be adopted it would make the electric line between this city and Edgerton much shorter than the railroad route. If the line goes by Milton, however, the distance will be fifteen miles instead of twelve.

THE CHICAGO MARKET REPORT

Interesting Gossip From the Closing
Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

Wheat.—Market acted somewhat irregular today but on the whole the ruling trade was firm and last prices show a small advance over yesterday's close, although effected to some extent by weakness in coarse grain.

There was good selling early. Crowd covered on prospects of a big decline in visible and under 85c there was so little wheat for sale that change was very noticeable. Trade was small and mixed in character. Cables little easier.

Corn.—Early corn market was strong with good buying by commission houses but local people sold late on this light outlook for corn. Support on decline was poor, shorts being best buyers and they took only moderate quantities, barely enough to hold prices at near bottom prices. There were very little news in situation, talk of big acreage, and favorable weather are more than offset by small receipts.

Oats.—Easier feeling in oats at close was due to weakness in corn there was some good local buying in progress and a strong market until selling in corn started then oats eased off much under pressure of liquidations. Light receipts, fair cash demand and favorable crop advices are factors.

Provisions.—Hog products about steady. Trade small and scattered and very little feature to market. There was selling in July pork and buying in lard for outside account, and some support from brokers on easy spots. Last prices are about unchanged. Hog receipts small.

FAVOR INCREASE OF POLICE FORCE

Council at an Informal Session Last Evening Passed Judgment on Several Important Matters.

The several committees of the city council held a joint session last evening to consider several matters which will come up before the meeting Monday. The question of increasing the police force was discussed at some length and the general opinion was that another man should be added to the existing force. Other than this no changes whatever are contemplated. The matter of revoking the licenses of saloons west of the railroad tracks, the dog pound ordinance, and other important measures will be up for consideration at the coming session.

BASEBALL GAME WAS PLAYED YESTERDAY

Beloit's baseball team was defeated by the Chicago university blue by the score of 6 to 5 in a game replete with errors and stupid base-running yesterday. Beloit lost two runs and the game by the wretched work of her men in the latter respect. Vogel-sang pitched the first two innings and then gave place to Morey who kept the hits well scattered. The game was erroneously announced as scheduled for today. Morey, the star pitcher of the Beloit team, it is understood, is wanted by one of the strongest teams in the American league. It is even said that an offer was sent him by one of the eastern managers and that the college boy modestly declined it, saying that he would remain with Beloit college not only to finish his course of study but also to help the baseball team win more victories.

ROW ON ACADEMY ST. LAST NIGHT

William Albright and George Lovejoy Arrested on Charge of Assault and Battery.

There was an altercation on Academy street last night in which a cook on the dining car, Henry McCrossen by name, is alleged to have gotten the worst of it at the hands of William Albright and George Lovejoy. Two young girls answering to the names of Lightfoot and Wheelock were also mixed up in the affair. Albright and Lovejoy were arrested on the charge of assault and battery. They pleaded guilty in municipal court this morning and their hearing was set for Monday, bonds being held at $500. The girls are also held as witnesses. Albright, it will be remembered, was one of the prominent witnesses in the Zimmerman murder trial and a friend of "Moosie" Blum who was taken to Waupun Thursday.

SEEKS RECOVERY OF COMMISSIONS

Parker Pen Co. Has Commenced Action Against Charles M. Fleck, a Former Salesman.

On the grounds that unbusinesslike and improper methods were employed in disposing of pens which resulted in the return of thousands of them to the factory the Parker Pen Co. has commenced action against Charles M. Fleck, who has been acting as a salesman for the concern, to recover several hundred dollars in commissions paid on orders which they allege were subsequently not accepted by dealers. While on the road for the company Mr. Fleck disposed of over $20,000 worth of the pens in one year and won the $200 prize offered by the company. But, in order to make this record, it is alleged that he gave certain purchasers the privilege of returning their orders after a certain length of time providing they had the pens still in stock. Palmer & Dougherty represent the plaintiffs and J. J. Cunningham and George Sutherland, the defendant.

HANDSOME ORIENTAL DESIGNS

And Imported Papers Used in the Hotel Myers Refinishing Work.

At the re-opening of the Hotel Myers many were the inquiries as to the quantity of wall paper used in the refinishing work, and much admiration was expressed regarding the designs and patterns. The building was thoroughly over-hauled from top floor to basement. Over two thousand rolls of wall paper were furnished by J. H. Myers wall paper store, of moderate priced bedroom patterns to the finest imported papers, the grill room being furnished in a particularly handsome imported oriental design.

For the thorough manner in which the remodeling work has been done, credit is due Mr. J. H. Myers. His full time and attention for the past three months has been devoted to the work. Expense was not spared and there's not a room in the whole building but has been refinished.

Yesterday Mr. Myers received four thousand rolls of new wall paper, of latest patterns, half tones, upper thirds, tapestries, florals, and other late designs, and is fully prepared to meet spring demands.

BOOM NORCROSS FOR THE OFFICE

W. H. SARGENT POST HAS A NEW CANDIDATE.

REAR WITHDRAWS HIS NAME

Norcross for Department Commander of the State G. A. R.—Janesville
Grand Army Men Enthusiastic.

Captain Piny Norcross is to be the candidate of the W. H. Sargent Post No. 20 of the G. A. R. for the department commander of the state of Wisconsin. This was the decision reached last evening when J. L. Bear, the former candidate, withdrew his name. The endorsement came with a will that always has characterized the actions of the old soldiers and Captain Norcross who was present accepted the endorsement.

Is Well Known

Captain Norcross is so well known in the city and to the people of Rock county he needs no introduction. He will have the hearty support of S. E. D. Crane Post of Beloit and steps will be taken at once to organize the whole of southern Wisconsin in his favor.

Outsiders Present

Col. S. S. Moseley, commander of the Beloit post was present together with others from that post and H. S. Rhodes of Stoughton. Moseley, Grinnell and Rhodes entertained the large audience present with well chosen and spicy remarks and Moseley and Grinnell were pleased to endorse Norcross as a candidate for department commander and said the Beloit post would be for him.

THOROUGHGOOD IS NOW ENDORSED

Municipal League Withdraws its Candidate in His Favor This Morning.

The executive committee of the Municipal league had decided this morning to present the name of Geo. S. Parker as a candidate for mayor, and made an effort to secure his endorsement at the republican convention. At Mr. Parker's request they decided not to do this, but to throw their support to John Thoroughgood, who is a member of the league, and whose candidacy is satisfactory to that organization. The active canvass for republican support will probably be between Mr. Thoroughgood and Mr. Richardson.

LOYAL ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY

Were Well Represented at Meeting
Called to Effect an Organi-

There was a good attendance at the meeting called at the office of Dr. Q. O. Sutherland last evening for the purpose of perfecting the organization of a Janesville Alumni Association of the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Sutherland was made president, and Miss Anna Valentine, secretary, and a committee consisting of G. G. Sutherland, Bernard Palmer, and Miss Valentine was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws and report at the next meeting to be held at the Hotel Myers on June 1. The interest manifested in the jubilee at Madison in June indicates that the Janesville representation at the exercises will be of the most imposing of any in the state.

MISS ETHEL BATES WON SECOND PLACE

In the District Declamatory Contest at Whitewater Last Evening—
Delavan Got First.

Itzy Harvey of Delavan carried off the first honors in the declamatory contest at Whitewater last evening. Miss Ethel Bates of Janesville was awarded second place. Considering the wide territory represented, including the Dunn, Sauk, Green, and Walworth county leagues as well as the Rock River Valley and Rock county organizations, the showing made by Janesville is especially creditable. The winners in this district contest will compete in the state contest. The local delegation returned from Whitewater at one o'clock this morning. Several students, Supt. Duell and Profs. Logan and Manross attended.

Admired the Little Wheels.

Here is a Kaffir story told in a recent book: "When the first wagon appeared the people of the kraals all turned out to see the new wonder—but which moved on wheels. Mile after mile the people clapped hands and cheered the little wheels, which seemed to form the center of attraction. On being asked what they saw in the small wheels to make them so excited they replied that they thought it was so plucky of them to be able to keep up with the large ones."

CHAPTER IX.

I HAVE already mentioned the man whom I secretly looked upon as standing between me and all preference. He was a good looking fellow, but he wore a natural sneer which for some reason I felt to be always directed toward myself. This sneer grew pronounced at this time, and that was the reason, no doubt, why I continued to work as long as I did in secret. I dreamed the open laugh of this man, a laugh which always seemed hovering on his lips and which was only held in restraint by the awe we all felt of the major.

Notwithstanding, I made one slight move. Encountering the deputy coroner, I ventured to ask if he was quite satisfied with the evidence collected in the Jeffrey case.

His surprise did not prevent him from asking my reasons for this question.

I replied to this effect: "Because I have a little friend who some enough and subtle enough to worm the truth out of the devil. I hear that the girl Loretta is suspected of knowing more about this unfortunate tragedy than she is willing to impart. If you wish this little friend of mine to talk to her I will see that she does so and does so with effect."

The deputy coroner looked interested. "Whom do you mean by 'little friend,' and what is her name?"

"I will send her to you."

"And I did."

The next day I was standing on the corner of Vermont avenue when I saw Jinny advancing from the house in K street. She was chipper, and she was smiling in a way which made me say to myself:

"It is fortunate that Durbin is not here."

For Jinny's one weakness is her lack of power to hide the satisfaction she takes in any detective work that comes her way. I had told her of this and had more than once tried to impress upon her that her smile was a complete give away, but I noticed that if she kept it from her lips it forced its way out of her eyes, and if she kept it out of her eyes, it beamed like an inner radiance from her whole face. So I gave up the task of making her perfect and let her go on smiling, glad that she had such frequent cause for it.

This morning her smile had a touch of pride in it as well as of delight, and, noting this, I remarked:

"You have made Loretta talk."

"Her head went up, and a demure dimple appeared in her cheek."

"What did she say?" I urged. "What has she been keeping back?"

"You will have to ask the coroner. My orders were strict to bring the results of my interview immediately to him."

"Does that include Durbin?"

"Does it include you?"

"I am afraid not."

"You are right. But why shouldn't it include you?"

"Why do you keep your own counsel so long? You have ideas about this crime. I know. Why not mention them?"

"Jinny?"

"A word to the wise is sufficient." She laughed and turned her pretty face toward the coroner's office. But she was a woman and could not help glancing back, and, meeting my dubious look, she broke into an arch smile and naively added this remark: "Loretta is a busybody ashamed of her own curiosity. So much there can be no harm in telling you. When one's knowledge has been gained by fingerings behind doors and peeping through cracks, one is not so ready to say what one has seen and heard. Loretta is in that box and, being more than a little scared by the police, was glad to let her anxiety and her fears overflow into a sympathetic ear. Won't she be surprised when she is called up some time day by the coroner? I wonder if she will blame me for it?"

"She will never think of doing so," I barely assured my little friend, with an appreciative glance at her sparkling eye and dimpled cheek.

The arch little creature started to move off again. As she did so she cried, "Be good, and don't let Durbin cut in on you," but stopped for the second time when half across the street, and when, obedient to her look, I hastily rejoined her, she whispered demurely: "Oh, I forgot to tell you something that I heard this morning and that nobody but yourself has any right to know. I was following your commands and buying groceries at Simpkins' when, just as I was coming out with my arms full, I heard old Mr. Simpkins mention Mr. Jeffrey's name and with such interest that I naturally wanted to hear what he had to say. Having no real excuse for staying, I poked my finger into a bag of sugar I was carrying till the sugar ran out, and I had to wait till it was put up again. This did not take long, but it took long enough for me to hear the old grocer say that he knew Mr. Jeffrey and that that gentleman had come into his shop only a day or two before his wife's death to buy—candles!"

The archness with which this was said, together with the fact itself, made me her slave forever. As her small figure faded from sight down the avenue I decided to take her advice and follow up whatever communication she had to make to the coroner by a confession of my own suspicions and what they had led me into. If he laughed—well, I could stand it. It was not the coroner's laugh nor even the major's that I feared. It was Durbin's.

CHAPTER X.

JINNY had not been gone an hour from the coroner's office when an opportunity was afforded for me to approach that gentleman myself.

With few apologies and no preamble I immediately entered upon my story, which I made as concise and as much to the point as possible. I did not expect praise from him, but I did look for some slight show of astonishment at the nature of my news. I was therefore greatly disappointed when after a moment's quiet consideration he carelessly remarked:

"Very good, very good! The one point you make is excellent and may prove of use to us. We had reached the same conclusion, but by another road. You ask: 'Who blew out the candle?' We, 'Who did the pistol to Mrs. Jeffrey's room?' It could not have been tied by herself. Who was her necessary, then? Ah, you didn't think of that."

I flushed as if a pall of hot water had been dashed suddenly over me. He was right. The conclusion he spoke of had failed to strike me. Why? It was a perfectly obvious one, as obvious as that the candle had been blown out by another breath than hers; yet, absorbed in my own train of thought, I had completely overlooked it. The coroner, observing my embarrassment, smiled, and my humiliation was complete, or would have been had Durbin been there, but fortunately he was not.

"I am a fool," I cried. "I thought I had discovered something. I might have known that there were keener minds than mine in this office."

"Easy—easy," was the good natured interruption. "You have done well. If I did not think so I would not keep you here a minute. As it is, I am disposed to let you see that in a case like this one man must not expect to monopolize all the honors. This matter of the box of ribbon would strike any old and experienced official. I only wonder that we have not seen it openly discussed in the papers."

Taking a box from his desk, he opened it and held it out toward me. A coil of white ribbon surmounted by a crisp and dainty bow met my eyes.

"You recognize it?" he asked.

"Indeed I did."

"It was cut from her wrist by my deputy, Miss Tuttle wished him to unroll it, but he preferred to leave the box intact. Now lift it out. Careful, man; don't soil it. You will see why in a minute." As I held the ribbon up he pointed to some spots on its fresh white surface. "Do you see those?" he asked. "Those are dust marks, and they were made as truly by some one's fingers as the impressions you noted on the mantelpiece in the upper chamber. This pistol, you told me, was in her hand."

"It is for ladies, too."

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpelide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's 'Herpelide.' Herpelide, Herpelide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpelide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpelide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpelide Co., Detroit, Mich.

after the deed; possibly by that same hand."

It was my own conclusion, but it did not sound as welcome to me from his lips as I had expected. Either my nature is narrow or my immediate jealousy lays me open to the most astonishing inconsistencies, for no sooner had he spoken these words than I experienced a sudden revision against my own theory and the suspicions which it threw upon the man whom an hour before I was eager to proclaim a criminal.

But Coroner Z. gave me no chance for musing such a fool of myself. Rescuing the ribbon from my hands, which no doubt were running a little too freely over its snowy surface, he smiled with the indulgence proper from such a man to a novice like myself and observed quite frankly:

"You will consider these observations as confidential. You know how to hold your tongue; that you have proved. Hold it, then, a little longer. The case is not yet ripe. Mr. Jeffrey is a man of high standing, with a hitherto unblemished reputation. It won't do, my boy, to throw the doubt of so hideous a crime upon so fine a gentleman without ample reason. That no such mistake may be made and that he may have every opportunity for clearing himself I am going to have a confidential talk with him. Do you want to be present?"

I flushed again, but this time from extreme satisfaction.

"I am obliged for your confidence," said I. "Then, with a burst of courage born of his good nature, I inquired, with due respect, if my little friend had answered his expectations. 'Was she as clever as I said?' I asked.

"Your little friend is a trump," was his blunt reply. "With what we have learned through her, and now through you, we can approach Mr. Jeffrey to some purpose. It appears that before leaving the house on that Tuesday morning he had an interview with his wife which ought in some way to account for this tragedy. Perhaps he will tell us about it, and perhaps he will explain how he came to wander through the Moore house while his wife lay dying below. At all events, we will give him the opportunity to do so and if possible to clear up mysteries which provoke the worst kind of conjecture. It is time. The ideas advanced by the papers foster superstition, and superstition is the devil. Go and tell my man out there that I am going to K street. You may say 'we' if you like," he added, with a humor more welcome to me than any serious concession.

Did I feel set up by this? Rather. Mr. Jeffrey was expecting us. This was evident from his first look, though the attempt he made at surprise was instantaneous and very well formed. Indeed, I think he was in a constant state of apprehension during those days and that no inroad of the police would have astonished him. But expectation does not preclude dread—indeed, it tends to foster it—and dread was in his heart. This he had no power to conceal.

"To what am I indebted for this second visit from you?" he asked of Coroner Z., with an admirable presence of mind. "Are you not yet satisfied with what we have been able to tell you of my poor wife's unhappy end?"

"We are not," was the plain response. "There are some things you have not attempted to explain. Mr. Jeffrey—for instance, why you went to the Moore house previous to your being called there by the death of your wife."

It was a shot that told, an arrow which found its mark. Mr. Jeffrey flushed, then turned pale, rattled and again lost himself in a maze of conflicting emotions, from which he only emerged to say:

"How do you know that I was there? Have I said so, or do those old walls babble in their sleep?"

"Old walls have been known to do this," was the grave reply. "Whether they had anything to say in this case is at present quite immaterial. That you were where I charge you with being is evident from your own manner. May I then ask if you have anything to say about this visit? When a person has died under such peculiar circumstances as Mrs. Jeffrey, everything bearing upon the case is of interest to the coroner."

"Mrs. Jeffrey's death was a strange one," her husband admitted, with tardy self control. "I find myself as much at a loss to understand it as you do and am therefore quite ready to answer the question you have so openly broached; not that my answer has any bearing upon the point you wish to make, but because it is your due and my pleasure. I did visit the Moore house, as I certainly had every right to do. The property was my wife's, and it was for my interest to learn if I could the secret of its many crimes."

"Ah!"

Mr. Jeffrey looked quickly up. "You think that an odd thing for me to do?"

"At night—yes."

"Night is the time for such work. I did not care to be seen pottering around there in daylight."

"No? Yet it must have been so much easier. You would not have had to buy candles or carry a pistol or—"

"I did not carry a pistol. The only pistol carried there was the one with which my demure wife chose to take her life. I do not understand this allusion."

"It grew out of a misunderstanding of the situation, Mr. Jeffrey. Excuse me if I supposed you would be likely to provide yourself with some means of defense in venturing alone upon the scene of so many mysterious deaths."

BEQUEST COMES JUST IN TIME

Despondent Man Faced With Ejectment Receives $50,000.

New York, May 11.—Out of work and knowing not when he would be put out of his room for nonpayment of rent was the situation which faced Burt von Nostrand. Now the dark clouds which had been hovering over his head for a long time have turned to sunshine. Things were looking mighty blue and he was thinking he had about reached the limit of human endurance, when he received a letter from his aunt, Mrs. Mary Campbell of Fifth avenue, who is now in Durand, Scotland. The letter told him that his uncle had died and his will had been probated, and that in the same mail with her letter would be sent $50,000 to him as his share of his uncle's estate. Then von Nostrand shook the blues and started for the bank to collect.

HAS JUST ONE VOTE TO SPARE

It Takes Even Then 290 Ballots to Nominate Trimble for Congress.

Lexington, Ky., May 11.—South Trimble was renominated for congress on the 290th ballot by the Democrats of the seventh district with a single vote to spare. On the 289th ballot J. Campbell Cantrell received fifty-three votes, barely sufficient to elect, but the chairman ordered a recapitulation and the next ballot gave Trimble fifty-four votes.

Charge Murder on Father.

Dickinson, N. D., May 11.—John Brown of Richardson is under arrest here charged with the murder of his 12-year-old son while in a fit of anger. The father buried the body immediately. It has been exhumed.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to continue, the kidneys become clogged with blood, and the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, for the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is sold to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle of Swamp-Root.

A COUGH CONUNDRUM

When is a cough more than a cough?
When it's a settled cold. When it hangs on in spite of all you can do. Cough mixtures won't cure it because they are merely for a cough and this is something more.
Scott's Emulsion cures the cough because it cures the something more. It heals and repairs the inflamed tissues where the cold has taken root and prevents its coming back.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.
There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to continue, the kidneys become clogged with blood, and the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, for the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root is sold to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle of Swamp-Root.

By order of City Committee,
M. O. MOUAT, Chairman.
W. J. McIntyre, Secretary.

CONDITION OF FOREIGN CROPS
Outlook Less Favorable in Russia Than Elsewhere in Europe.

Washington, May 14.—The foreign crop report of the department of agriculture shows that the tenor of many unofficial reports regarding the general crop situation in Russia has been decidedly unfavorable, but more hopeful views are held in some commercial quarters.

Germany.—The three principal cereals are all rated materially higher than a year ago.

Australia.—The fall sown crops in most provinces wintered well, and afford ground for the best hopes.

Hungary.—The official reports are generally favorable.

Roumania.—Reports are generally favorable.

France.—Cereal crops are progressing favorably.

ENTITLED TO SHARE HERO FUNDS
Son of Secretary Shaw Rescues a Woman From Drowning.

San Francisco, Cal., May 14.—Duning the brief stay of the steamer Doric at Honolulu on the voyage which ended here Earl B. Shaw, son of Secretary Shaw, saved the life of a fellow passenger. Several of the passengers, including Shaw and Mrs. C. L. Barff, wife of a Shanghai merchant, took a canoe ride in the surf. A great breaker capsize the frail craft and all were thrown into the water. All secured hold of the canoe except Mrs. Barff, who came to the surface some distance from the boat. Shaw swam to her aid, reaching her just as she was sinking, and brought her to the canoe. All were soon reached.

Amid the Labor Troubles

There is one class of servants with which nobody has any trouble. They are the Life Insurance companies. Wages (premiums) are fixed to begin with and returns are always better than guaranteed. Here is the record of a faithful servant.

The late Thomas S. Kennedy, of Crescent Hill, Ky., left as part of his estate an insurance policy in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York for $5,000, issued May 25, 1885. Dividends to the amount of $6,500 had accumulated on this policy, making the total paid by the company $11,500. The net premiums paid by Mr. Kennedy amounted to $5,458.83, making the return over cost $5,441.17.

In writing for terms for a policy of this kind, state what you would like to receive in cash at the end of limited payment period.

Choice of Fifty Tailored Suits at $12.
This is the opportunity which usually comes in August. However, explanations are unnecessary; suffice to say that from a line of fifty or more new, nobby suits, every one of this season's manufacture, you can make a selection at twelve dollars and a half. As you will probably take a trip this summer, you might as well prepare in advance, then when you visit the St. Louis Exposition or any other point you will have the right thing. Many of the desirable fancy mixtures are in the line, also the plain colors—navy, brown and black. Certainly great bargains at such a price—$12. Alterations are free.

COVERT COATS
The season's favorite; a number of styles, but all good ones. This ad. refers to such tailored Coats as were $9, $10, $12 which are now on sale at choice for one price, $7. Also have plenty of the lower priced Coats at $5 and up, but the ones above are the best of their kind and you can take your choice now at $7.12.

BEARING DOWN PAINS
3647 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27, 1902.
I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them.

About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me, told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery.

In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I take a dose now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Wine of Cardui brings certain relief to women suffering any symptom of female weakness and perfectly regulates the menstrual flow. Wine of Cardui stops bearing down pains by permanently relieving the irritation which weakens the ligaments holding the womb in place. You need not suffer every month if you take this medicine. The periodical discharge will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drains. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may treat yourself privately in your own home. Secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist today.

DRINKS PINT OF WHISKY; DIES OF HEMORRHAGE

Walter at Pittsburg Forfeits His Life to Win Wager—Body Is Taken to the Morgue.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—Arthur Lloyd, aged 42 years, of 216 East Robinson street, Allegheny, was found dead on the floor of the house occupied by Mrs. Rachel Jack, 2 McIntosh court, Allegheny. A hemorrhage, brought on from excessive drinking, was the cause of death. The body was removed to the morgue.

Lloyd came here from Chicago about two months ago, during which time he has been employed as a waiter at the Hotel Emory. Along with a party of friends he went to the house of Mrs. Jack to spend the evening, and it is said while there he drank a pint of whisky on a wager. It was not long after that he was seized by the hemorrhage and died during the night.

His body was found lying face downward on the floor of the kitchen. The Allegheny police department was notified. After an investigation it was decided that death had been due to the hemorrhage and the body was removed to the morgue.
